With F.M.L.

"Vox populi" shouted reform in Texas politics the past weekend.

And a coalition "Dirty 30" movement emerged from the Texas House a state-wide sweep-in of two reform gubernatorial candidates and sweep-out of perhaps four incumbents, if only because they were in office at the time.

New nominees for governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general and possibly comptroller are assured following the Saturday Democratic primary.

A man by the name of Frank W. Sharp, of Houston, had more influence at the polls than any of the candidates. His now legendary activity at highest Texas political and financial levels turned the electorate to new faces, most of them saying what people had told them, that reform is what people want.

This movement may have begun before Frances "Sissy" Farenthold and 29 other legislators from opposite sides of the aisle started a palace revolt in the Texas House last year.

It may have begun when former Texas Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler struck a newspaper photographer and crisped the Legislature into a censure vote in 1970. Both came during a controversy over handling of sunken treasure in the Texas Gulf and Sadler's patriarchal attitude toward how his office ran.

Coalition support in press and public brought Bob Armstrong, 37-year-old candidate, victory over Sadler in the 1970 Democratic Primary.

Saturday, cross-voting gave Dolph Briscoe, of Uvalde almost a majority over Rep. "Sissy" Farenthold, Lt.-Gov. Ben Barnes and Gov. Preston Smith. Ms. Farenthold ran second and the two incumbents finished well behind in that order.

It is likely a majority in the Texas House will carry the "Dirty 30" approach to control after former Speaker Gus Mutscher's conviction for conspiring to accept a bribe in connection with the Sharpstown scandal and Sharp's confessed duplicity to lesser charges in the affair.

Another former Texas attorney general, Will Wilson, also an assistant attorney general in the Nixon administration involved in the Sharpstown investigations, resigned earlier because he once represented Sharp prior to the 1971 revelations.

And another former Texas House speaker, Waggoner Carr, has been implicated in the Sharpstown banking-insurance affair, appearing before federal grand jury and judicial hearings.

Briscoe late in the primary campaign urged that public hearings be held for all legislation introduced in the Texas House or Senate before voting. He said as governor he would veto any legislation approved without public hearings in Austin.

This is obviously what people wanted to hear. Gov. Smith's veto after quick approval of the banking bills by both House and Senate wasn't enough.

A significant development in legislative politics, beyond the sweep-out of incumbents, is heralded. And that is public hearing beyond committee hearing of proposed legislation in Austin. Some candidates mentioned a "town meeting" approach to politics in Texas amidst the air of mistrust generated by the Sharpstown developments.

It could carry to the U. S. House and Senate chambers, that is, a greater demand for public involvement though public hearings are common in government.

It could lead to a return to more open debate on public issues in Austin and state houses across the country, a departure from committee-oriented legislative processes in most contemporary government.

It says size of government deeply concerns people. And it suggests that people or their reform representation want to hear and speak on issues mired by numbers and bureaucracy into mish-mash or even bad legislation.

It says people still believe in government by law, but they now want to see what goes in before they accept what comes out.

Lt.-Gov. Barnes's Career, at 34, is abbreviated, if not terminated.

113-113-113

Anyone at the opening session of the 1971 Texas Legislature could sense disaster for somebody that January day.

It was the day the first Sharpstown information broke in the press, the day Gus Mutscher opened the 61st session and the day Gov. Smith, Lt.-Gov. Barnes and Atty-Gen. Martin took new oaths of office. I was there.

They are soon on the inactive list in Texas government.

"Vox populi." Rich or poor. Without Texas precedent.

Fund Started

For Bruedigan

A fund has been started at both Cameron banks for Monroe Bruedigan, Cameron resident who is in critical condition following recent surgery at Scott and White Hospital, Temple.

Bruedigan is a member of the Cameron Volunteer Firemen, who have started the fund. Contributions may be made at either First National or Citizens National Bank.

Demo Runoff Set, Kubiak Wins Election

The June 3 second primary runoff will find Dolph Briscoe and Frances "Sissy" Farenthold pitted against each other for the Texas Governor's chair. The two candidates led the polls in a field of 7 candidates, including incumbent Gov. Preston Smith.

A runoff is also set for the lieutenant governorship between Bill Hobby, Houston Post executive, and state Sen. Wayne Connally.

Also in a runoff against Barefoot Sanders is Ralph Yarborough for the Democratic nomination for the U. S. Senate.

Runoffs will be necessary also in the Democratic races for attorney general and comptroller.

Whoever wins the Democratic nomination for governor will meet either state Sen. Hank Grover or long time GOP Party leader Al Fay, both of

Alcoa Lays Off 125

A reduction of 30,000 tons per year in primary aluminum output at Alcoa's Rockdale Works will result in a layoff of 125 workers at the Central Texas industry, the firm announced Monday.

Public relations director Hal Reagan said the layoff would be on a basis of seniority and that the lists of the workers affected would be put up by Wednesday.

Reagan said the reduction was hopefully "temporary."

The reduction in production at Rockdale, Alcoa's largest plant, will leave six of the eight pot lines in operation. The first pot line was shut down last summer, Reagan said.

The duration of the cutback, Rockdale Works manager Fred P. Bergeron said, will hinge on "how soon the national economy picks up, increased aluminum shipments and the success of further local operation cost reduction efforts."

In an announcement to employees, Bergeron said:

"Alcoa's corporate first quarter report indicates an improving economy and growing market demand for aluminum. That leaves much of the Rockdale Works situation up to employees. Realistically, our task becomes more difficult with each production cutback. We lose a little more edge with every reduction."

Little League Sets

Managers Meeting

The Cameron Little League organization will meet at 6 p.m. Thursday, May 11 (tonight) at the Cameron Community Center.

All managers and assistant managers, and any adult interested in the program are urged to attend.

Reception To Mark Senior Citizens Month

By Christine Laws

Senior Citizens Month - a decade of recognition.

For whom? Senior Citizens, of course. May will again be observed as National Senior Citizens Month. This marks the 10th time older people have been so honored.

Senior citizens in Milam County will celebrate with a community reception on May 13 at the Cameron Community Center on 704 West 6th Street. The program, sponsored by the county committee on aging, will begin at 2 p.m. This program is open to anyone in Milam County.

In Texas there are fewer older persons than the 10 per cent national average. In Milam County, 18 per cent of the population is senior citizens.

Tomorrow will see an even greater number of older people. Persons 65 years of age or older increase at the rate of about 900 a day.

Senior Citizens' Month recognizes older people for their important continuing roles in our society.

Governor Preston Smith proclaimed May Senior Citizens Month continuing the 10 year tradition of designating a month honoring older Texans. O. B. Harden, County Judge also signed a proclamation for Milam County.

Texas values its senior citizens, Governor Smith said. "They should be commended and respected for their continuing efforts to build a better society for all citizens."

He said there is a need for greater public awareness of the contributions of older Texans, and also "concern for the problems many

Mutual Files

Test Figures

On Four Wells

Mutual Oil Company of America, Inc. filed potential test figures last week for four of their recently completed wells in the Milbur Field in south Milam County which were part of their current drilling campaign.

The figures show that the company's No. 1 Grabener produced 43 barrels of oil per day, the No. 2 W. D. Payne made 46 barrels, the No. 3 Payne 36 barrels, and the No. 1 Grabener - Payne Unit made 38 barrels on potential.

Location of the No. 2 and No. 3 W. D. Payne is on a 175 acre lease and the No. 1 Grabener is on an adjoining 58 acre lease, all in Eliza Sante Survey about 6 1/2 or 7 miles southwest of Milano.

Depth figures for the new oilers were not reported, but when Mutual Oil scheduled the wildcats last March the Grabener was permitted to 4,000 feet and the Payne test to 3,900 feet. They are believed to produce from the Navarro "B" zone.

The four new wells were among six wildcats that Mutual Oil scheduled in February and March to be drilled in the Milbur Field. No report has been released for the other two wildcats. The company has a policy of drilling its wildcats tight - that is, releasing no information about them after they have been scheduled.

BUCKHOLTS BANQUET

The Awards banquet honoring the students of Buckholts school district is set for 8 p.m., May 16. It will be the annual covered dish affair and everyone is invited.

Saturday, May 13 will mark off another year for the Milam County Junior Broiler Show. This year's show appears to be another good effort by the 45 4-H and FFA youngsters from all over Milam County.

This year's show will be held in the building formerly occupied by the New Cameron Drug on South Houston Street in Cameron. The show will get underway at 8:30 a.m. with all birds being in place by that time.

A junior judging contest will be held at 8:30 with all contestants judging the birds by observation in the cages. Certificates of merit will be given to the winners of the judging. Official judging will begin at 9 a.m. and the judging should be completed by noon.

The broiler show banquet will be held at the Methodist Fellowship Hall at 6:30 p.m. Saturday. Tickets will be available at $1.50 each. Winners and champion trophies will be presented at the banquet.

A concession stand will be operated at the show by the 4-H clubs and there will also be a 4-H bake sale at Culpepper's in Cameron. Everyone is invited to attend.

Fire Destroys Debose Home

Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed a frame home at 1404 7 1/2 Street about 1:35 a.m. Sunday morning.

The house was occupied by Mrs. Dorothy Debose and her five children but no one was injured in the fire. Firemen fought the blaze until about 2:35 a.m.

The Salvation Army unit is asking for clothes and household furnishings for the family, now staying at 907 S. Burleson. The clothes sizes are for boys age 10, 12, 14 and 18, and a girl size 11. Mrs. Debose wears a size 9 or 10. The items should be taken to the family.

Firemen To Host OpenHouse, Races

Local and out of town pumper teams will highlight the Cameron Volunteer Firemen's open house Saturday at the fire station from 2 until 5 p.m. The races will include mens and ladies teams.

The races will start about 3:30 p.m. in front of the station.

All residents of Cameron and the surrounding area are invited to the open house. The Firemen's Ladies Auxiliary will serve refreshments and there will be fire truck rides for children.

SENIOR CITIZENS Month is proclaimed by County Judge O. B. Harden. With him are, from left, Mrs. Wavy Charles, Mrs. Hinto Pruitt, Mrs. Clyde Holliman and Mrs. Frank Hanle.

Republicans Cast 45 Ballots

A total of 45 ballots was cast in the Milam County Republican Party's primary election Saturday in its two voting boxes in Rockdale and Cameron. The Cameron box received 23 votes, and 22 votes were cast in the Rockdale box.

The only contest on the GOP ballot was in the race for Governor, with six candidates entered. David Reagan led the field with 18 votes. He was followed by Albert Bel Fay with 11 votes, Henry C. (Hank) Grover with 10, B. Thomas McElroy with 4, and John A. Hall with 2 votes. Joseph Alton Jenkins, the other candidate for Governor, received none.

Reagan did not do as well statewide as he did in Milam County. Hank Grover was top vote getter in the state, followed by Albert Fay. They will face each other in the runoff election on June 3.

Senator John G. Tower, running for re-election as U. S. Senator, received 42 votes. Maurice Angly, Jr., for State Treasurer, got 42 votes, and Jim Segrest, candidate for Railroad Commissioner, also received 42 votes.

Jack Tumlinson of Cameron, running for State Senator, 18th District topped all candidates with 43 votes.

In the balloting for party offices, James E. Luckey of Rockdale was elected County Chairman with 19 votes. He will succeed present County Chairman J. Estel Johnston, who did not seek re-election.

Other party officers elected were precinct chairmen. They were: for Precinct 1, Cameron, Alton Logan; Precinct 2, Cameron - Lloyd Albertson, Precinct 3, Salem - H. P. Tumlinson; and Precinct 16, Rockdale - Carlos Frite. In the referendum Daylight Saving Time received 22 votes for and 21 against. The proposed amendment to prohibit busing of school children got a lopsided vote of 32 for and 8 against it. Precinct conventions were held after the polls closed at 7 p.m.

Cuba Revisited?

We support the President's effort to curb influx of Russian supplies and materials into Haiphong harbor.

The U. S. has only 6,000 combat troops in Vietnam, and another 55,000 or so who are basically supply or logistic people supporting the South Vietnam troops.

If those 12 North Viet divisions continue southward, they are compelling capture or flight for these troops, who are being cycled on pre-announced schedules anyway. If they or any major part are captured, it would be additional tragedy compounding our difficulties over our POWs in Cong hands.

The South Viet army is facing a European-style invasion from the north, the Viet Cong divisions armed with Russian tanks, supplied with Russian trucks and materials. Russian ships carry this stuff into Haiphong, about 95 percent of it.

President Nixon has said no new American troops or nuclear weapons would be introduced into this development. This sets the limits of response open to Russia. He is scheduled to visit Moscow and is hoping to take at least an equal hand into discussions at the Kremlin.

If this invasion goes unchallenged, Moscow will interpret it as an opening to equalize advantages we have gained by earlier talks in Peking.

A lot depends on the will of the South Viet army, whose will to fight has always been less than the Cong. But perhaps the Russian equipment will tell South Viets and the rest of the world this is a new development south of the Demilitarized Zone, which it is, and world opinion important to Russia will limit Soviet response to strong words and nothing more.

Ships had three days to get out of the harbor. It is likely the place will be emptied by the time the deadline is reached.

It sounds something like Cuba 1962. Things have changed little in 10 years.

Peking Traffic Offenses Produce Unique Results

By Peter Gregson
Reuter Correspondent

PEKING

Being stopped for a traffic offense in Peking is a unique experience.

There are no fines but that doesn't mean you get off lightly. In the first place, the traffic regulations are a bewildering maze, only mastered with long experience.

Most offenses are dealt with by a cautionary lecture from a traffic policeman, but they can be lengthy and often involve misdemeanors peculiar to China.

Private vehicles in Peking are mostly owned by foreigners -- who attract curious stares. The sight of a westerner in his strange-looking car being admonished by a policeman causes a crowd to materialize from nowhere.

The traffic police wear dull green uniforms with a round red badge on their cap, while the dark glasses they like to wear lend them a sinister appearance.

A frequent unwanted stopping - place for foreigners is Peking's vast Tien An Men Square, where the traffic police operate in pairs, mostly directing traffic with red - and - white batons.

After flagging a car down for an offense, the policeman inspects documents and takes the driving licence with him to the nearest traffic kiosk. This is one of many round, glass-sided huts to be found at all intersections throughout the city.

A lengthy telephone call follows while he consults with higher authority. Meantime the driver waits, watched by a spellbound audience.

When he returns, the officer delivers a lecture pointing out the offense. This can be quite short if the driver admits his guilt and pledges not to repeat the crime.

As such cases usually involve minor matters such as missing a baton signal, or driving with headlights on, this is a simple matter.

Using the car's headlights in Peking, although street lighting is poor and the roads are thick with bicycles which carry no lights, is forbidden. Apparently they dazzle the cyclists and pedestrians.

For more serious cases, the procedure is complicated, especially as any motor vehicle involved in an accident with a horse-drawn or human-powered conveyance is initially judged to be the guilty party.

The drivers involved are taken to a police station, where they can be kept for several hours, while investigations are made and their vehicles tested to check that they are in good mechanical condition.

Eventually both parties involved are normally delivered a more extensive admonitory lecture, pointing out that they were both in the wrong to have been involved in the accident. A record is made and usually the case is then closed.

If there is serious injury or death, and police find the motor vehicle driver to blame, foreigners may be ordered to pay damages. There is no vehicle insurance of any kind in China.

Chinese drivers involved in serious offenses can be sent to the countryside for re-education at a disciplinary camp. Lesser offenses are treated with a stern lecture.

Theoretically, there is a 38 m.p.h. speed limit on all main roads. But this is generally disregarded and rarely enforced.

But China's version of the police radar trap and speeding fines is occasionally to impose a 13 m.p.h. limit on short stretches of road.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

SEN. HRUSKA: 'CBS-TV
A CUNNING BURGLAR'

SENATOR ROMAN L. HRUSKA (Neb.) -- This time, the target of the program (60 Minutes) was the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA) -- the Agency created by Congress to assist the States and local units of government in planning and implementing programs to reduce crime and make the streets of America safe once again.

"I am appalled to find that the CBS editors eliminated virtually every reference to the constructive programs funded by LEAA; they cut out Mr. Leonard's description of the complete reorganization of the agency; they ignored his suggestions that they examine some of the 50,000 crime-fighting projects supported by LEAA; they dismissed strongly supported comments of Chief Wilson of the District of Columbia Metropolitan Police Department; and they ignored the statistics which clearly show a dramatic drop in the crime rate of 53 of the Nation's major cities.

"Such deception. The cunning thus displayed would do credit to a burglar.

"CBS did not want to hear what the Washington D.C. police have to say about the (LEAA) program. Let me quote his letter of March 20 to Mr. Leonard, Chief Wilson wrote: 'Our partnership was formed in the face of crisis, at a time when Washington was experiencing some 200 crime index offenses a day. Working together, LEAA and the Metropolitan Police Department helped turn the corner on crime in Washington D.C. With your continuing help we will finish the job.'

"Did CBS mention South Bend, Ind., 13 percent decrease in serious crime? Or my city of Omaha, with its 4.6 percent decrease? Permit me to call some others to your attention. Remember these are actual decreases in serious crimes during 1971 as compared with 1970. (We list a few): Baltimore, 12.4 percent; Rochester, N.Y., 10.3 percent; Seattle, Wash., 13.5 percent; Grand Rapids, Mich., 10.3 percent; Youngstown, Ohio, 13.5 percent; Oakland, Calif., 10.6 percent.

"All of these and more -- major cities with more than 100,000 population -- had actual decreases in their serious crime rates last year. But were any of these mentioned in the CBS program? No.

"One of the particularly galling aspects of the criticisms directed toward LEAA is the impression that program difficulties were uncovered by Congress or the States -- or CBS. This is not the case. The problems were uncovered by LEAA, which launched a full-scale audit. Where funds have been misused they will be recovered by LEAA. Where there has been a violation of Federal law, there will be prosecution by the Department of Justice.

CRUMP'S COMMENT

Television commentators have cultivated a sly way of presenting opinions as facts. Television usually needs a fresh disaster to command attention. In some instances "tragedies" have been staged. An example is the American victory at Khe Sanh in South Vietnam which, on television, was programmed as a "siege."

Volunteer Firemen...

Volunteer firemen are a breed unto themselves.

Who else is willing to be on 24-hour duty without pay and answer the call when the whistle blows, no matter what they're doing?

Cameron has a group of volunteer firemen who have shown and keep showing over the years that they care about the other fellow's property and life by answering that call.

They leave their jobs, their businesses, or their homes in answer to the call from someone in big trouble with a fire, be it a home, vacant building, a pasture burning in the country, or some unfortunate's car blazing.

They ruin clothes, miss meals and sleep, meetings, or just home companionship to answer that call, and there's no pay for the often dangerous, dirty, exhausting job.

These volunteers share a deep pride in what they're doing, and the citizens of Cameron can do no less than honor that pride on Saturday afternoon when the firemen will hold open house at the fire station.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Brickbats for Teacher

Billy's grouchy grandfather took such a violent dislike to the boy's homeroom teacher that he wrote a special letter of denunciation to the board of education.

"This woman is ignorant, lazy, and totally uninterested in her job," he alleged. "She just sits there and collects wages."

As it happened, Billy's teacher was both capable and energetic.

When she found out about the letter, she determined to sue the grandfather for defamation of character.

At the trial, he was unable to produce even a shred of evidence to sustain his charges. Result: liability. The court said teachers need not put up with malicious charges that blacken their professional reputation.

Most courts agree. Still, not every mistaken statement about a teacher will support a defamation suit. Like other public employees, a teacher must "take" a reasonable amount of criticism from those who are legitimately concerned with the school system.

In another case, a pupil's mother complained to the school board that a certain teacher was "not competent." But this time, even though the mother's complaint was exaggerated, she did have a substantial amount of supporting evidence.

The teacher sued -- but the court ruled against her. The judge said that for the good of public education, some leeway must be allowed to its critics.

Nor is it defamation if the charge does not seriously reflect on the teacher's professional qualifications. Take this case:

A school principal, writing a report about a new teacher, described her as being "careless in writing on the blackboard." Was this statement, if untrue, enough basis for a defamation claim by the teacher?

A court ruled that it was not, because it did not really mean she was incompetent in her job. The court said it was perfectly possible for someone to be very bad at writing chalk, yet very good at teaching children.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

According to an item I read in a newspaper the other day, there is such a big backlog of un-tried criminal cases stacked up in New York city that if the police made no arrests at all it'd take a year for the courts to catch up, and other big cities and some not so big are reporting similar situations.

Even the Supreme Court is having trouble, the Chief Justice having reported that there were 4,000 cases filed with the high court last year compared with only 1100 in 1940.

I have been thinking about this, trying to find a solution. Take the Supreme Court. If it's getting four times as many cases now, you'd assume maybe we ought to have four times as many Justices, or 36, but judging by the way Congress turns down appointments, there may not be 36 men in the country qualified to serve.

Or take the big cities. Maybe they should have four times as many courts, but that'd require four times as many judges, four times as many court rooms, four times as many prosecutors, four times as many grand juries, petit juries, bailiffs, etc. Half the city would be tied up in court most of the time and half the criminals would have to start robbing each other.

The only solution I can think of is to develop no-fault crimes, like the town I know that cut down on speeding violations on its streets by raising the speed limit. Why not? We've got no-fault insurance in some places, haven't we? I never had understood what no-fault insurance meant until just the other day when a friend explained it to me.

"No-fault insurance," he said, "is the kind of insurance the insurance companies never have to pay off on. They say 'We find no fault with that type insurance.'"

This doesn't sound right to me, but in a political year a man is naturally confused. Why just last night I read that some consumer organization has claimed that there are 88,900 bridges in this country un-safe to use. This leaves a politician not only unwilling to cross a bridge before he comes to it, but unwilling after he gets to it, although I guess it's only fair to say a lot of them have been following that practice for years anyway.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

County Agent's Notes

Time To Spray
Pecan Trees

By Bill McCutchen

Spraying dates for the pecan nut casebearer will definitely be earlier than usual in 1972 and projected dates for spraying in Milam County are May 8 to May 13th.

Casebearer activity is about a week or so earlier than I can ever remember and a high population is predicted in this area. Moth emergence has been spread out indicating a possible necessity for 2 applications in order to achieve the desired level of control.

Freshly deposited eggs were first found on May 3rd indicating that optimum time for initiation of casebearer control efforts should be conducted during the week of May 8-13th.

There is a good pecan set in Milam County and I would urge producers to protect this crop. Materials currently recommended for pecan nut casebearer control include Zalone, Guthion, Thiodon, Malathion, or Toxaphene. Zinc Sulphate at 2-3# per 100 gallons of water should be added to the spray mixture to prevent zinc deficiency or a condition known as rosetting.

For those bothered by pecan scab, Dodine, Maneb, Du-ter or Polyram are recommended. For those pecan producers with livestock in the groves, Malathion is the only material recommended for casebearer control that has no grazing restrictions.

Which ever chemical is used producers are reminded that thorough coverage of the pecan cluster is necessary for adequate control.

PECAN APHID

For the past several years many homeowners in the area and some commercial producers have been using Di-syston for control of the black and yellow pecan aphid. This material when properly applied will control the nuisance honeydew problem throughout the entire season. Now is the time to make your Di-syston application and if you are not familiar with the material, I would suggest letting a professional handle this task as the material is quite toxic and can be absorbed through the skin.

Di-syston should be applied in May or early June at a rate of 13.5 of 15% granules per acre. The material should be applied in 6 foot bands preferably completely encircling the tree. Locate the bands in the trees main drip area and water immediately after application if possible.

STOCK WATER

The hard rains throughout the county on May 1 were a big help to some stockmen who were hurting for livestock water. The heavy rains on the first caused the first appreciable runoff in many months and filled stock tanks in most areas of the county.

Some producers had been hauling stock water and other ponds were getting critically low.

EAT EGGS

If you didn't eat a total of 321 eggs -- either shelled or processed -- during 1970, you're behind the average as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture.

$40 BILLION MORE

During 1970, American's spent $114 billion for food, accounting for some 16-percent of their disposable income. If American consumers were spending the same percentage of their take-home pay today as they did 20 years ago, they would be spending in the range of $40 billion more for food per year.

Stiles Farm Sets Field Day

THRALL

The 10th Annual Field Day of the Stiles Farm Foundation has been set for June 20, announces Calvin Rinn, farm manager. The farm is one mile east of Thrall on U. S. Highway 79.

Tours of crop and livestock enterprises will get underway at 2 p.m.

Field day visitors will have an opportunity to observe and hear about work with pasturegrasses, broadcast cotton, Temik research and pest management in cotton, weed control and precision planting of grain sorghum, loose stacking of hay, increased cattle gains with improved forages, swine waste disposal and sunflower production.

Field day, participants will also be able to visit information booths to obtain additional information on sunflowers, pest management, cotton, swine beef cattle, weed control, grain sorghum, forages, plant and animal disease, farm economics and small grains.

Specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and research scientists with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station will be on hand to answer questions concerning production and management problems.

Modern farm equipment will also be on display.

A formal program at 5 p.m. will feature the presentation of Stiles scholarship winners by Dr. H. O. Kunkel, Texas A&M University dean of agriculture; and addresses by Dr. John Hopkin, Stiles professor in agricultural finance, and Dr. Ron Kay, assistant professor in farm management, both at Texas A&M.

A free barbecue sponsored by the Taylor Chamber of Commerce and businessmen of Williamson County will be served following the program. Tickets will be available soon from county agricultural agents in the area and from sponsoring businessmen.

The Stiles Farm operates as a demonstration farm for the Central Texas Blackland area. Established in 1961, the model farm demonstrates research proved practices through guidelines of the Blackland Income Growth (BIG) program.

SCS NEWS

Grass deferred is like having money in the bank. Livestock farming can be unsure when trying to out guess the weather. Emergency dry weather feeding can be expensive and eventually force sale of the livestock.

Planning a deferment for part of the pastureland or a planned rotation system for your livestock can result in better grass and less feed cost.

Deferment is a plan whereby the grass has a set time to rest during the growing season or seasons. This will give the grass time to reseed or recover to a healthy vigorous condition.

Landowners with several pastures and sufficient acreage should give serious thought to deferring grazing on one or more pastures. A rotation of the deferment can be applied, so every pasture can receive rest over a period of time.

Planned rotation systems can be applied on small pastures, so each pasture will receive a temporary rest. Temporary deferment during the growing seasons will furnish more grazing and keep your pasture grass in good condition.

Management of the grazing and stocking rate must be considered before the deferment or plan rotation system can work. Overgrazing the grass will defeat the purpose of resting, and place the pasture back to a low producing pasture.

Contact your local Soil Conservation Service for assistance in planning deferred grazing or a planned rotation system.

Soil Week
Proclaimed

Soil Stewardship Week is designated for the week of May 7-14. Every year a week is set aside for observance and to pay tribute to the real owner of the soil.

Man often forgets that he is only entrusted with the soil he claims that belongs to him. The duty of everyone entrusted with any portion of the soil is to take care and protect the soil while in his possession.

Pastors of all the churches in the Little River - San Gabriel Soil & Water Conservation District were invited to attend a Soil Stewardship breakfast on May 3 in Bartlett.

Those attending the breakfast were Gilbert Kretschmar, district chairman of the Little River-San Gabriel Soil & Water Conservation District; David Meyer, district conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service; and Henry Abel, Soil Conservation District board member.

Pastors present were Douglas Enterkin, First Baptist Church in Granger; Doyle Darwin, First Baptist Church in Bartlett; Wesley Howard, First Methodist Church in Bartlett; James L. Peper, Methodist Church, Florence; Ken Schauer, Lutheran Church, Walburg; Gary E. Mayer, Lutheran Church, Rockdale; and Robert Thronson, Lutheran Church, Bartlett.

After eating, Gilbert Kretschmar discussed the responsibility of being stewards of the soil. David Meyer presented a short slide program on the local area that needs additional attention and some slides showing where landowners were fulfilling their responsibilities of being good stewards.

Jones Prairie

By Mrs. Bill Thweatt

Rev. Norval Barnes filled the pulpit Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Martin of Temple, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Keith and daughter of Cameron visited Mrs. Mildred Martin Saturday evening. Mrs. Martin served them home made ice cream.

Mrs. Bill Thweatt went to the Church Women United luncheon at Simon George Hall Friday.

Mrs. Thomas Hickman of Waco spent Tuesday night with Mrs. Willie Phipps.

Rev. and Mrs. Barnes went to Hearne Sunday to a family reunion.

The String Prairie Cemetery home coming dinner was held Saturday at the tabernacle. Lots of local people attended the event.

Wendland
To Head
Grain Group

HOUSTON

The Texas Grain and Feed Association elected Erroll Wendland as its president in the closing session of the 74th annual convention here today. Wendland is the vice president of Wendland's Farm Products, Inc. and Temple Bonded Warehouse, Inc., in Temple. Immediate past president is Carter Lindsay of Plainview.

Elected as first vice president of TGFA was Gene Skaggs, H. J. Hughes Grain Elevator, Inc., Panhandle. Elected as second vice president was Paul R. Daly, Cargill, Inc., Houston.

Under his presidency, Wendland said the association will be working to provide more services to its members and will be very active working to help all members come into full compliance with air pollution control regulations and occupational safety and health regulations.

He then said that he would personally be working with members urging them to become politically active.

"In agriculture, we need to tell our story to more Congressmen and make them more aware of the inherent efficiency of the organized grain and feed industry marketing system," He added that one of the chief goals would be to help promote and expand U. S. exports to help improve the farmers' income.

Wendland is also a member of the National Grain and Feed Association and the American Feed Manufacturers Association plus numerous other agriculture related organizations.

Gause

By Mrs. Wanda Lee

We had a regular storm last Monday night. There were a number of large trees uprooted, some falling on tractors, garages and a vacant trailer home overturned. Fire completely destroyed the home of Mr. B. J. Kilpatrick, apparently caused by lightning. Luckily Mr. B. was in San Antonio with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beere. They were up here during the week to see about things. While here they visited with Mr. and Mrs. George Bland.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown Ely and Myron spent the weekend in San Diego, Texas with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Burney.

A large number from there attended the rodeo in Caldwell Saturday night.

Koye Cass, Craig, Kelly and Lance Lee visited in Lexington Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Cass, Dwayne, Lisa and Carmen.

Mrs. Ethel Mitchell spent last week in Freeport with Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Ray Mitchell and children. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mitchell and son of Hearne went to Freeport during the week vacationing and Mrs. Mitchell returned home with them Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. "Tee Joe" Marks and Traci of Hitchcock spent the weekend here with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Simmons.

Mrs. Lizzie Hughes had more surgery last week in Houston. Mrs. Cecil Butler went down and spent several days with her.

Mrs. David Wilkins was in Rockdale several times last week to visit her mother, Mrs. Calvin Eiland, who has been in the hospital.

Mrs. Thomas Hickman of Waco spent Tuesday night with Mrs. Willie Phipps.

BIGGEST FIELD CROP

Tame, hay, Canada's biggest field crop, occupied more acres during 1970 than the combined acreage of rye, flaxseed, soybeans, potatoes, mustard seed and corn and oats for grain.

Screen Plantings
Aid Home Beauty

Screen plantings are a useful and beautiful way to improve the privacy and appearance of your home landscape. "These living fences may be used to provide a boundary for your property, hide objectional views, reduce outside noises and prevent the sweep of strong winds," says Dr. William Welch with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

According to the Texas A&M University landscape horticulturist, hedges may serve a variety of purposes in landscaping your home. They make excellent backgrounds for flower borders, are ideal edging plants, and may be used to separate different areas of the yard and to regulate the passage of people and animals.

Welch suggests using a clipped hedge around a small or medium size lot because of the small space it uses.

"When carefully planned, a hedge may become an attractive part of the landscape. Clipped hedges require a lot of attention since they must be pruned often.

"Free-growing hedge is appropriate for the informal look of a medium or large lawn or property. Maintenance is simple since only moderate pruning is necessary each year. If your hedge is particularly long, plant trees at intervals along it to add interest and break the monotony," suggests the horticulturist.

A fence takes up less space than any other boundary treatment available and requires the least maintenance. Vines planted and trained to climb the barrier can add beauty and interest to your yard.

On a large property or country estate trees may serve as a property boundary where space permits, adds Welch. Lower branches of trees may be removed and shrubs planted beneath them. Besides providing a more complete screening effect, other benefits are privacy and a noise and dust barrier.

Pruning hedges is a frequent but not too difficult task. With the informal hedge, simply thin out old stems and cut back long branches to the desired height and width.

"Clipped hedges should always be wider at the base than at the top," says Welch. After the plant has reached optimum size, cut all shoots to within a half inch of the previous year's growth. Every few years, cut back to the previous year's growth to maintain the desired size. You will need to clip developing shoots several times during a growing season.

Better Cotton Yields Can Mean Profit For Growers

HART, Texas

Better yields of quality cotton not only can help bolster confidence of textile mills in U. S. growers' ability to supply the market but can mean greater profits for producers, Ray Joe Riley, Hart, pointed out today.

Riley and Dr. John E. Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station, are co-chairmen for Texas in a Beltwide campaign to obtain "Better Yields of Quality Cotton for Profit and Market Growth."

Explaining how better yields of quality cotton can increase profits, Riley emphasized that:

* Higher yields spread overhead costs and lower

Campaign
Aims At Pesticides

A statewide campaign for safe use of pesticides is being launched by the Texas Department of Agriculture. Leaflets explaining how to use and dispose of poisons will be placed in stores throughout the state.

"We must all bear some of the responsibilities in the fight against environmental abuse," Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White notes in the leaflet. "We must do everything we can as individuals to maintain and improve our environment. Proper use and disposal of pesticides is a must to achieve this objective of a quality environment," White said.

One of the most flagrant abuses of pesticides is their disposal. Getting rid of an unwanted poison by pouring it down a drain can result in great harm to the environment. Detailed instructions on how to properly dispose of pesticides are explained in the leaflet.

The leaflet is titled "The Safe Use And Disposal of Pesticides And Their Containers."

Copies of it may also be obtained without charge by writing to: John C. White, Commissioner, Texas Department of Agriculture, Box 12847, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

over - all costs. Example: With a yield of 450 pounds per acre, costs might approximate 32.2 cents per pound. Increasing yields to 550 pounds could drop costs to 27.2 cents.

* Preservation of the quality in cotton assures a higher price and a satisfied buyer -- an important point in contracting sale of the crop in advance.

* A better yield in 1972 can increase the cotton farmer's "yield for payment purposes" under the government farm program in 1973.

* Good yields testify to sound management and facilitate financing. They evidence proven performance -- a valuable asset where lending agencies are concerned.

* Higher yields mean greater volume, increased efficiency, and lower cost of producing, processing marketing -- all factors in grower profits.

Maysfield

By Mrs. J. P. Wise

Mrs. J. M. Burks and her daughter Mrs. Lindsey O Waco visited with Mrs. W. C. Cooper Saturday afternoon. They are former residents of this community.

Mrs. Marguerette Mas sengale, who has been with her daughter, Mrs. Dea Baird, in Freeport, came home Friday for the week end. But returned to Freeport Sunday. Mrs. Baird had surgery last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Henderson of Austin spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Yate. Their little daughters, who had been visiting their grandparents, returned home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Yagi visited in Austin Tuesday.

Mrs. Leroy Massengale Austin spent the weekend her Maysfield home.

Weekend visitors of Mr. Vina White were her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ray White.

Flood warning!

In 1971, the high waters of Hurricane Fern brought widespread, costly destruction to the Gulf Coast. When or where the next flood will strike is anybody's guess. Are you protected?

Today, many Texas counties, cities, towns and villages are eligible for special flood insurance under the auspices of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and the National Flood Insurers Association.

Different programs are available for different areas. Protection is available for homeowners, for tenants, for owners of small businesses and for general property. To find out whether you are eligible for this special flood coverage--call any local agent, broker or company licensed to do business in your area.

REMEMBER--FLOOD DAMAGE IS NOT COVERED BY STANDARD PROPERTY INSURANCE.

Ernest Reed, 87, of Cameron died Monday morning in a Rosebud hospital.

Mr. Reed was born in Gunnersville, Ala. and was a retired farmer.

Funeral service was held at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday at Marek-Burns-Laywell Funeral Home, the Rev. J. E. Lafferty officiating.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Beulah Reed of Elgin; two sons, Jimmy Reed of Bastrop and Andy Reed of Waco; two daughters, Mrs. Mary Angell of Cameron and Mrs. Lee Moore of San Antonio; and seven grandchildren.

Pallbearers were E. J. Provasek, Ferrol Angell, Edwin Kohutek, Carl Black, Claude Burgess and John Talbott.

Seven Seas To Capture Walruses

Officials of Seven Seas have announced plans for an expedition to far North Alaska to capture walruses. In making the announcement, Hollis Pollard, general manager of the sea-life park, said, "This is our second expedition, and we are confident the venture will be a success."

The first trip was to Gualupe Island, off the coast of Baja California. The purpose of the 30-day trip was to capture elephant seals. "Pancho", one of the city-owned park's star attractions, was brought to Texas from this trip. The elephant seals were trained and are being used in a show.

Pollard said that L. H. Kephart, the park's marine biologist, and Larry Todd, public relations director, would make the trip to Gambell, Alaska to search for the animals.

Kephart said the mammals would be placed in the Arctic Ocean section of Seven Seas. "It is generally a difficult task to train one of the animals, but if we can get young ones, they should adapt rather well. Actually, they become very loveable," said Kephart. "Many people have never seen walruses, and this is one reason we want to bring them to Texas."

Channelization Harmful To Fish Populations

AUSTIN — In the not-so-distant future Texans may not have to worry about pollution of their natural streams, according to William C. Provine, biologist for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

"I think you will all agree that there will be no problem with the pollution of our natural streams if these streams are entirely eliminated as we know them now," Provine told biologists and other department inland fisheries personnel at a recent conference in Austin.

The problem, said Provine, is channelization, the practice of straightening the stream and removing vegetation from its banks for flood control purposes.

According to Provine, one of the main government agencies responsible for promoting channelization completed 273 watershed projects, including channelization, nationwide during the 16 years between 1954 and 1970. Planning was authorized for another 1,561 watersheds, and construction was in progress in 1,001 more.

By the year 2000, this same government agency, one of several involved in channelization projects, reports that 8,964 more watersheds need channelization. The grave magnitude of fish and wildlife losses due to channelization projects has been extensively documented in several states, said Provine.

A study in California showed that channelization resulted in six conditions which were detrimental to fish and wildlife: the adjoining backwater lakes and sloughs were drained, riparian vegetation cover was eliminated, the eddies and holes along the river littoral zone were eliminated, water turbidity was increased, bank erosion was increased, and amounts of spawning areas were reduced.

A comparison of 23 channelized and 36 unchannelized streams in North Carolina showed a 90 percent reduction in the number of fish and an 85 percent reduction in weight with limited recovery even after 40 years.

Lack of recovery after long periods was reported by the Idaho Fish and Game Department which said there was an 80 to 90 percent reduction in game fish 30 to 75 years following channelization.

Data on channelized and unchannelized sections of the Blackwater River in Missouri indicate that after 40 years unchannelized portions yielded 575 pounds of fish per acre in comparison to 131 pounds per acre in channelized areas.

An unchannelized portion of a trout stream in California produced 83 pounds per acre compared to 12 pounds per acre on channelized areas on the same stream.

Another study in North Carolina showed that the Carolina showed that the average weight of game fish per surface acre was approximately 427 greater in natural streams than in streams which had been channelized. The study indicated that the average size of fish in channelized stream of fish in channelized streams was considerably smaller than that of fish in natural streams.

The Sport Fisheries Institute reported that altered streams in Montana produced only one-fifth the number and one-seventh the weight of game fish produced in natural streams.

Provine cited a study which indicated that alteration by dredging and draining is probably of greater significance than pollution per se in producing long-term change in the populations of stream fishes.

"Pollution can be abated and its damage reversed," said Provine. "The damage of streams by channelization is by all indications permanent."

Volleyball Teams Place

The Cameron Junior High seventh grade girls volleyball team won second place in a tourney at Belton.

On the team are Janet Angell, Ella Mae Brown, Diana Chubb, Leslie Claypool, Debra Fleming, Martha Hollister, Renee Krenke, Pam Keith.

Also, Becky McDaniel, Janene Meyer, Joni Wilkerson, Tina Posival, Molly Story and Elaine Trdy.

The girls eighth grade volleyball team came in third in the same tourney.

Team members are Rose Anderson, Jan Burke, Claudette Sanders, Stella Tena, Mary Hanel, Cynthia Kretschmar, Genevieve Soriana.

Also Priscilla Stinnett, Lynn Laywell, Rebecca Riola, Debbie Ingram, Jeanie Shuffield, and Pam Watkins.

CJH Second In Contest

Cameron Junior High seventh and eighth graders placed their school in second place with 65 points at the UIL Literary Meet held recently.

Seventh grade winners include Eloise Henderson, first in spelling and plain writing, and Karla Stanislaw came in second in the same event.

Scoring for the eighth grade was Glen Rummel with a first place in number sense.

Jr. High Tennis Players Score

The Cameron Junior High tennis players did alright for themselves at the Georgetown tourney on Saturday, May 6. Tennis is a brand new sport for junior high students and they are really going strong.

In the seventh grade boys singles Clay Kruse won second place and in the seventh grade boys doubles Richard Raymond and Richard Trubee won second place.

Dale Mueck and Steve Haag won second place in the eighth grade boys doubles.

Noon Lions Scholarship Is Open

Applications are now being taken for the annual Noon Lions Club scholarship for Yoe High School seniors. The scholarship is for $300.

Application blanks may be obtained at the high school office and must be turned in to the office by May 16. The winner will be announced on Awards Day, May 19.

Criteria for the scholarship includes scholarship, extra curricular activities, community service and need.

Dr. George Bowman is chairman of the Noon Lions scholarship committee.

Money for the scholarship is raised by the Lions annual light bulb sale.

Rodeo Team Still Placing

The Yoe FFA Rodeo team is still placing in the top six each weekend at the rodeos. This past weekend they competed against a lot of mud, but it didn't stop them from going.

On Friday, April 28, three members of the rodeo team traveled to Rockdale to compete in a one night show. They were Tina Tittsworth, Ricky Watkins, and Dan Foster. Tina placed third in flag race and third in pole bending. Ricky won first in the bull riding. Dan also competed in the bull riding.

Also on Friday and Saturday, April 28 and 29, four of the other members traveled to Bryan. They were Debra Coufal, Elizabeth Steadman, Kenneth Kirk, and Paul McDermott. Paul won fourth in the average in tie-down roping.

Five members went to Hillsboro on Saturday afternoon, April 29. They were Jimmy Bailey, Dan Foster, Ned McElwraith, Dean Prokisch, and Edwin Kohutek. They all rode bulls but none of them placed. That weekend, the team was fairly well split into three different directions.

On Saturday, May 6, three team members traveled to the McCallum High School Rodeo in Elgin. They were Debra Coufal, Kenneth Kirk, and Paul McDermott. Kenneth won first in the tie-down. Debra and Paul won third in ribbon roping. The mud slowed everyone down somewhat.

The sponsors accompanying the members were Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Barron, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coufal, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Terry, Jerry Barton, Mr. and Mrs. C. Tittsworth, and Mr. and Mrs. Buck Kirk. The sponsors helped a great deal and the members appreciated their help a whole lot.

JO LESTER

A Gift Mother Will Appreciate

Spring Pantsuits by Jo Lester are a skillful mix of polyester double knit patterns. The zip front jacket with its patch pockets is striped with a small chain design on white... trimmed with an intricate tiny check pattern to match the pants. New, and a great idea. Red, navy, brown. Sizes 10 to 20.

SCHIGUT'S

The Lonely Heart

THANKS, FOLKS...

IT WAS AN IMPRESSIVE VICTORY AND YOU DESERVE ALL THE CREDIT!

Dear Friends:

You have been fine and kind to me. You have just returned me as your Representative for the nineteenth time.

In the next session of the Congress, I will rank number five, and two of the four Members ahead of me are from Texas. I am the second Texan to ever preside over the Committee on Agriculture.

I hope this experience will enable me to serve our District better than ever before. I want to justify the confidence you have shown in me. And to those who felt it in the best interest of our District to support someone else, I want to assure you that I will always stand ready to try to help you. I am everyone's Representative.

Congress has been and still is in session. I have not been able to devote as much time to the campaign as I would have liked. I have had to depend on you, my friends, and you responded wonderfully.

With every good wish,

Bob Poage Thanks You... Everyone!

I am proud of the fact that we ran an overwhelmingly successful race on my own merits. This is as I would have it, and I know it is as you want it. For this, I thank you.

It is necessary for me to return to Washington, but we are always available to assist in any way we can. We have a fine staff. Don't hesitate to call on us. We can't perform miracles, but we will try.

Let me again say just as simply and sincerely as I can that no one ever had finer friends and that no one appreciates their friends more than I.

A marvelous lake that fishermen can really enjoy is Lake Livingston. It's that beautiful body of water in Southeast Texas, between Huntsville and Livingston. It was built by the Trinity River Authority and the city of Houston about five years ago and is now full to overflowing.

Thousands of bass, crappie and catfish were planted in this new impoundment. Some of the bass now are of jumbo size.

Lake Livingston is located in a fertile area, where much of the brush has been left standing. Water runoff has been sufficient to provide a great deal of nutrition and frogs and crayfish are plentiful. All this adds to the food supply of the fish—which means quicker growth.

Lake Livingston, like all the other recently built East Texas lakes, has a great deal of brush. Engineers removed brush only in the main channel, which might some day be used for barge traffic on the Trinity River. In fact, Lake Livingston dam is the first to be built on that stream to provide for locks in anticipation of the river becoming navigable in the years ahead.

A good portion of the land adjacent to the lake is in private ownership. Unfortunately public access was not provided by the builders, although numerous recreational areas had been projected. But as soon as the lake was formed, land prices got out of range. Later, however, private developers began to move in and there still may be enough good sites left for recreational purposes.

Also, there is a large island in the lower end of the lake being developed for recreation and recreational housing. Already numerous mobile home sites have been constructed.

Both Livingston and Huntsville have ample motel accommodations only a few miles from the lake. There are numerous places where bank fishing is convenient. Also several good launching ramps are available to those who trailer in their boats.

Physically, Lake Livingston is about three-fourths the size of Sam Rayburn Lake, which is but a few miles away. Characteristics of Lake Livingston are similar to Rayburn... lots of adjacent timberland and big stands of pine and hardwood.

So far Lake Livingston has been free of pollution, despite the fact that two big metropolitan cities are located upstream on the Trinity River. Perhaps with the present drive against pollution, Lake Livingston waters may be kept clean. What will happen when and if the stream is made navigable is another question.

Information on the lake may be obtained by writing either the Livingston or the Huntsville Chamber of Commerce... or to the newspapers—the Enterprise at Livingston or the Item at Huntsville.

If you want a big week-end of fishing, give serious thought to this fine new body of water.

Thank You

My wife, Zana, and I thank each of you from the bottom of our hearts for your tremendous support in our bid for re-election. The contributions of time and energy by young people and adults have been something to behold. This has been so inspiring to us because it has been a people's campaign and victory. We are people in a united district and will act as one.

The essentials to happiness in this life are something to do, something to love and something to hope for. I sincerely want to be a good representative of my people and to fight your fights in this great democracy.

I have a full time office in Rockdale at 237 Ackerman Street to serve each of you in District 36 or you may call at 512-446-2839 and 512-446-2887.

Shower Fetes Bride-Elect At Sharp

Miss Sue Petty, bride elect of David Simmers of Houston, was honored Sunday afternoon with a bridal shower at Sharp Presbyterian Church.

The bride's colors of pink and white were carried out in the table setting with an arrangement of daisy mums accented with pink net. The seat of honor was beneath a white trellis entwined with ivy and pink roses.

Mrs. Mike Rogers and Mrs. Dwight Praesel served refreshments of cake squares and punch while Miss Susan Abel presided at the registration table. Special guests were Mrs. L. A. Petty, mother of the bride, and Mrs. H. W. Masengale, the bride's grandmother of Cameron.

Hostesses were Mrs. Henry Abel, Mrs. Nelson Davis, Mrs. Jerry Harbug and Mrs. George Hosch.

The couple will exchange wedding vows June 10 at St. John's Methodist Church in Rockdale.

Happening about Town

Cameron, Texas, Herald, May 11, 1972

New Books At Library

The following are recent books now available at the Cameron Public Library.

THE SUMMIT by Stephen Marlowe - A wire-taut novel of intrigue involving the flight of a Russian Premier and an American Presidential assistant, as devious as Le Carre, as fastmoving as Ambler or Greene, and as real as tomorrow's headlines.

THE FAMILY TOMB by Michael Gilbert - An exciting novel of deadly intrigue involving three sinister figures in Florence, Italy.

THE BETSY by Harold Robbins - The tumultuous story of a dynasty of industrialists, a dynasty of willful, amoral adventurers formed in the most primitive and elemental terms.

THE SECOND MAN by Michael Dorman - An authoritative look at the changing role of the Vice-Presidency from John Adams day to Hubert Humphrey.

RABBIT REDUX by John Updike - In this sequel to "Rabbit, Run" (1960) Updike brings back Harry "Rabbit" Angstrom. Ten years have passed; the athletic escapist has become a paunchy conservative and Eisenhower's becalmed America has become 1969's lurid confusion of technology, fantasy and emergency.

YARD OF THE MONTH - Mrs. D. J. Kubecka accepts the Fleur de Lis Garden Club 'Yard of the Month' award for May. Grounds surrounding the Kubecka home at 503 W. Main were selected for the honor on the basis of neatness, condition of plantings and over-all landscape design.

Personal Mention

Miss Kathryn Kahler has been initiated into Assets, freshman honor society at Sophie Newcomb College in New Orleans. Ten students were selected from the 435-member freshman class for the honor. Miss Kahler is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kahler of Cameron.

Weekend visitors of Mrs. C. W. Bradbury were her daughter Mrs. Arthur B. Elliott and Elizabeth of Dallas. The Elliotts recently purchased a new home in Dallas and Mrs. Elliott visited in Cameron while her husband was on a business trip to New Zealand.

Lt. Col. James E. Flinn of Washington, D. C. was a weekend visitor in Cameron with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Flinn.

Mrs. Lena Lucko of the Heritage House Resthome in Rosebud celebrated her 82nd birthday Sunday at the home of her daughter in Cameron. Her six children, Mrs. Leona Rummel, Mrs. Lillie Rummel, Mrs. Annie Klein, Mrs. Bernice Rice, Mr. Charlie Lucko and Mr. Monroe Lucko and their families were present. Also 18 grandchildren and their families which included five great granddaughters and three great grandsons.

A. W. McCullin was honored with a dinner at Frank's Lakeview Inn on Sunday, May 8, to celebrate his birthday. Hosts and hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. A. W. McCullin, Mr. and Mrs. Albert McCullin, Jr. and family of Cameron and Mr. and Mrs. Grover McCullin and family of Temple.

St. Monica Ladies Plan Fete Booth

St. Monica Ladies heard committee reports and finalized plans for the Society's Folk Fete food booth at their final meeting of the season Tuesday, May 2.

Mrs. Edward Macal, president, announced that Mrs. Wilbert Lucko would be chairman of the Folk Fete booth.

Rev. John Geiser reported on the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women Convention which was held in Brenham. Mrs. Joe Mueck reported on the Church Women United May Fellowship luncheon hosted by St. Monica's Ladies.

Mrs. James Richardson showed three samples of carpeting to be purchased by the Ladies Society for St. Monica Church sanctuary.

It was announced that a Ladies' Retreat will be held at Bastrop on June 2, 3 and 4.

Russia Reverses Womens Lib Role

Womens liberation in the Soviet Union has a completely different meaning from what it has in the west. In the west, it signified getting the same treatment as men. But here, where women have long helped run the steamrollers of the worker's state, it means having a chance to dress and act more like a woman.

Some women in modern Soviet society think they may have the worst of both worlds. They have opportunities for equal work and pay but they must still carry on with household chores, including standing in long shopping lines at the end of the day.

An article on Soviet workers in a learned journal called "Questions of Philosophy" said women now account for one half of the workers and office staff in the country.

"Though they have won real equality in social labor," it said, "this is now always combined with real equality in family life. Even in conditions of developed consumer services in the town, women have to devote approximately double the time to household chores compared to men."

This means they have only half the free time enjoyed by men, who seem to do little domestic work aside from occasionally pushing a stroller in the park.

In fact, there are no "developed consumer services" for the ordinary Russian woman comparable to those available to her western counterpart. She still chafes under irksome shortages of pots, cosmetics, blankets or china, and faulty cleansing and repair services.

Mainly through force of habit, older women often continue wearing drab clothing with their hair rolled into buns.

Among younger women, however, truly fetching fashions catch the observers' eye more and more. The mini-skirt never really caught on, but maxis, midis and trouser suits appeal to Russian women.

And from the south comes the news, according to the newspaper Izvestia, that girls have been protesting in numbers against a legal ban on hot pants.

Clothes prices are still often high. A popular fashion store in Leningrad is known unofficially as "Smert Muzhiam" (Death to Husbands), a humorous play on the name of the one-time soviet counter-espionage group "SMERSH" (Death to Spies).

Women form 54 per cent of the Soviet population of 242 million. However, only two are in top government posts and only nine are among the 241 members of the Communist party central committee.

In Anril Center where a sociological investigation was conducted, only four per cent of the working women were found to be highly skilled compared to 30 per cent of the men and less than one-third of the women were skilled workers.

One unskilled female category, however, forms a kind of the Soviet economy. She is the "babushka" or grandmother, who rocks the cradle while both marriage partners are out at work.

Texas Trade Mission Tours Eastern Bloc Area

AUSTIN — Ten Texans, currently visiting industrial officials in two major Eastern Bloc countries, could return to the state May 12 with more than $60 million in business for oil drilling and petrochemical manufacturers.

The trade mission team left Dallas April 29 for meetings with industrialists in Moscow and Bucharest.

"This is the perfect opportunity for Texas to take the first step in capturing a major portion of the virtually untapped $22 billion market that exists in Eastern Europe," James Havey, director of the Texas Industrial Commission's International Trade Division, said.

Havey also called the trip an "excellent opportunity for Texas to do its share to reduce the large U. S. trade deficit."

The tour, the first organized trade mission by the petrochemical industry that has travelled behind the iron curtain, is designed to promote sales of oilfield equipment, refinery and chemical production equipment and all instrumentation, controls and services of these operations.

The two-week industrial mission follows President Nixon's recent actions legalizing extension of Export-Import Bank Credits for the sale of U. S. equipment to Romania. Export controls have also been liberalized.

Havey noted that a recent official U. S. visitor to Moscow observed that the Soviets, ironically, complained that Americans are not trying hard enough to personally sell to the U. S. S. R.

They also noted that the Soviets main contact with American companies is through Japanese or Western European firms that are U. S. licensed and subsidiaries, Havey said.

"It is almost impossible to judge the exact amount of business Texas manufacturers will bring home this first trip," Havey said, "but the shortage of oil production equipment in these countries could mean as much as $60 million the first year."

Prearranged appointments with both public and private sectors were made for the manufacturers participating in the specialized mission.

In Moscow, the Texas industrialists met with Russian Chamber of Commerce officials and other industrialists interested in oil drilling and petrochemical production.

"The Bucharest International Trade Fair will give team members direct contact with the end users of our products," Havey said. "And, since Texas is the nation's center for the petrochemical industry, the fair will give U. S. manufacturers an important foot in the door to an untouched market. The selling advantages of our products in Bucharest are excellent."

J. Allen Receives Science Award

Jackie Lynn Allen was awarded a special scroll by the Chemical Rubber Co. in recognition of outstanding scholastic achievement in freshman chemistry at Temple Junior College for the past school year.

Jackie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Allen of Cameron.

The "CRC" Freshman Chemistry Achievement Award Program has been maintained for 25 years to encourage and sustain student interest in the sciences.

Dr. DeBakey Believes Cholesterol Not Harmful

A noted heart surgeon, Dr. Michael DeBakey, president and chairman of surgery at Baylor College of Medicine, said at a cardiovascular disease seminar presented by Danciger Institute of Memorial Medical Center, Kansas City, Mo., that he and his associates have found very little relationship between diet, cholesterol levels and coronary artery disease progression.

In a story appearing in the Kansas City Times, Dr. DeBakey said "Much to the chagrin of many of my colleagues who believe in this polyunsaturated fat and cholesterol business, we have put our patients on no dietary program and no anti-cholesterol medications."

He said he had found that 80 percent of his patients with severe occlusive coronary artery disease had had blood cholesterol levels comparable to the levels in normal people.

"When the levels are comparable it just doesn't make sense that elevated cholesterol levels are the cause of coronary artery disease," he said.

The surgeon, who claims he eats only one meal a day -- late at night -- sleeps only four to five hours a day and practices no exercise regimen except "avoiding elevators at all possible times." He advised his patients to eat a varied diet of fruits, vegetables and meats, keep their bodies in good tone with moderate exercise and avoid anything in excess, particularly alcohol and cigarettes.

"I personally think most people eat too much and sleep too much," he said.

Dr. DeBakey thinks hearts damaged by coronary artery disease will be repaired surgically in the future, instead of being replaced.

Surgical techniques which either bypass the clogged heart artery or mechanically clean it have been perfected and he believes this approach is the most promising.

Jaycees To Explain Organization

The possibility of organizing a Jaycee chapter in Cameron will be aired at an open meeting which has been scheduled by the Temple Jaycees for 7 p.m. Tuesday, May 16 at the Texan Restaurant.

John Ellis, extension chairman of the Temple chapter, has reported that many young men, already contacted, will be present for the meeting.

The Jaycees is an organization whose membership is open to all young men between the ages of 21 and 35.

At the briefing meeting, Temple Jaycees will explain various phases of their own operation, community and membership benefits resulting from Jaycee operations and Jaycee chapter and membership requirements. A question and answer period will close the session, which will last no longer than ninety minutes.

Training Program Set At Cameron For Teacher Aids

A 30-hour training program for Teacher Aides will be conducted June 12-16 in the Cameron High School Homemaking Building under the direction of Dr. Jody L. Stevens, associate professor of administration and supervision at the University of Houston.

The program is for Level I Aides working in public schools, or for persons planning to become classroom teacher aides.

The 30-hour course is designed to develop a knowledge of the educational environment and structure of education. Also, it will increase the skills of aides in special areas, and provide insight into the moral and ethical responsibility to education.

Dr. Stevens has offered similar training programs in Texas and other parts of the nation for the past five years.

Persons planning to take the course should write A. L. Zelisko, Cameron, High School, Box 712, Cameron, Texas 76520, or telephone 697-1241.

Registration for the program will be held at 9 a.m. on June 1. A registration fee of $25 has been set and will cover the costs of workshop materials.

Participants will be provided with study guides, training films, resource materials, and information handouts. However, participants are requested to supply such personal items as scissors, pencils, pens, rulers and notebooks.

Certificates of completion will be awarded participants who complete the course.

CTC Training For Law Officers

A law enforcement training program conducted by the Central Texas Council of Governments during the first quarter of this year included instruction in one basic certification course and two special seminars.

Held at Central Texas College, Killeen, the program was funded $29,138 by Governor Preston Smith's Criminal Justice Council.

The basic certification course, consisting of 240 hours of instruction, was conducted from Feb. 14 to March 24.

Twenty-two instructors from Central Texas College and the legal and law enforcement professions led the sessions.

S. A. George Keeler of the FBI and CTC staff headed a 24-hour seminar on police administration, Feb. 1-3.

The following week, Feb. 7-11, a 40-hour seminar on science and the investigator was presented. Twelve students representing five agencies attended this course which was presented by FBI Special Agents, DPS personnel and college staff.

Alcoa's Income Shows Increase

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — Alcoa's net income for the first quarter of 1972 was $19,789,717, or 88 cents a common share. It's up 12.3 percent from $17,626,812 for the same period a year ago. Earnings on a common share were up from 79 cents a year earlier.

First quarter sales and operating revenues set an all-time record, increasing 15.1 percent to $417,473,721 from $362,824,861 in 1971. Shipments of aluminum products totaled 385,000 tons, up 11.6 percent from 345,000 for the same quarter a year ago.

Production of primary aluminum in the first quarter was 347,000 tons, compared with 368,000 a year earlier.

At Alcoa's annual shareholders' meeting, board chairman John D. Harper said that demand for aluminum is increasing and the marketplace is expected to support recent price increases.

"As 1971 drew to a close and the nation's economy began to show renewed vitality, Alcoa's order level and shipments began to improve," the company's chief executive said. "The market for our aluminum products continues to be strong."

"We have announced increased prices on certain products and expect these increases to be sustained in the marketplace. However, the price of primary aluminum and the average price of all other aluminum products still are below satisfactory levels."

Harper said prices on many products showed a firm trend in the quarter. Improved volume of business allowed Alcoa to distribute fixed costs more broadly and to maximize efficiencies of high volume production, he explained.

"We also were quite successful in maintaining the reductions in our controllable costs made over the past 18 months."

Contract Let For Road Work

AUSTIN — Contracts for highway construction in the Bryan district have been awarded by the Texas Highway Commission.

The work will be under the supervision of District Engineer Joe G. Hanover, and will be in Brazos, Grimes, Leon and Milam Counties. E. W. Hable and Sons, Inc. of Corsicana was awarded a contract for grading, structures, railroad overpass, stabilized subgrade, flexible base, hot mix asphaltic concrete pavement and curb and gutter on 5.6 miles of U.S. Highway 79 in Milam County. Low bid was $1,559,200.65.

The project extends from Gause to the Brazos River. Delton A. Kittrell of Hearne is the Highway Department engineer in charge of the project which will take an estimated 285 working days.

5 Area Students Win TJC Honors

Five Temple Junior College students from the Cameron area received honors at the 46th awards assembly held recently.

Russell Chupik of Rogers was named to Who's Who in American Junior Colleges. Rodger Weems of Heidenheimer was named to Who's Who, Outstanding Man on campus by the Temple Optimist Club, and received speech awards in Men's Oratory, second place for Men's Oratory at Texas Junior College Speech and Theatre Association competition and lettered for reaching the finals in that meet.

James Springer of Rogers received the band award. Jackie Lynn Allen of Cameron received the Chemistry Award and Robert Brasher of Cameron lettered in basketball.

Chupik, valedictorian of Rogers High School's 1970 class, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Chupik. He is president of Phi Theta Kappa, national junior college scholastic fraternity, and a member of Circle K Club.

Weems, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barton Weems, is a 1970 graduate of Rogers High School. At TJC he is Spoken Arts Club president and a member of the Church of Christ Student Fellowship.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Springer, Springer is a 1970 graduate of Rogers High School where he was a band officer. He was a member of the TJC band for two years.

Allen is a 1959 graduate of Yoe High School and Brasher is a 1971 graduate of YHS. The son of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Brasher, he attended TJC on a basketball scholarship.

You Don't Say . .

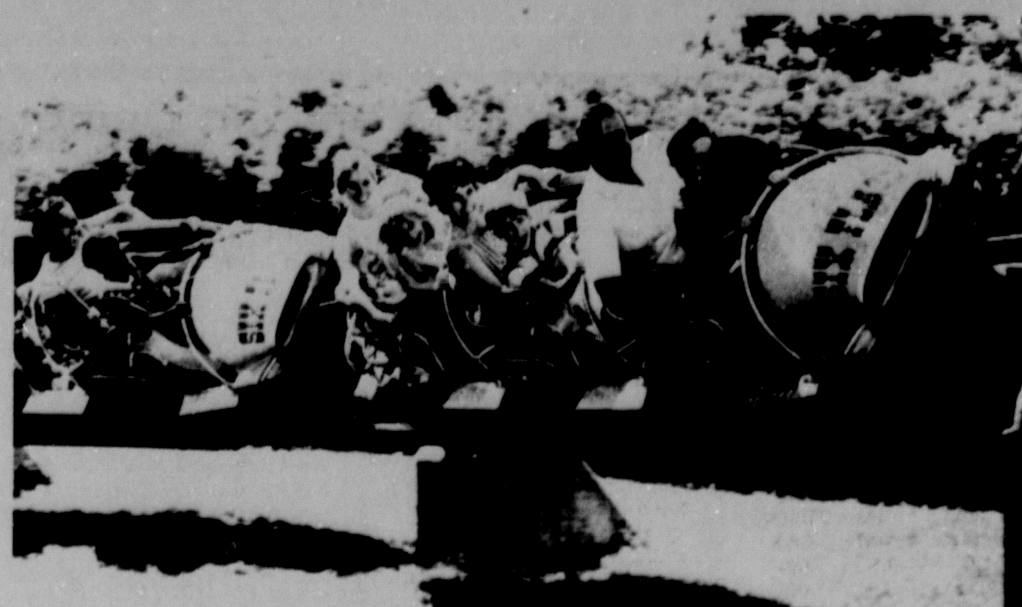

SHE said she WOULD go soon.

Correct: She said she WILL (not would) go. She said our government WILL (not would) confer with other countries.

She said her condition IS (not was) becoming worse. He stated that the Russians ARE (not were) too communistic to understand democracy.

In the four example sentences "she said" and "he stated" have already happened; the rest of the sentence in each case remains in the present or future so "is" and "are" (present) and "will" (future) should be used.

SIX FLAGS BREATHTAKER — The Big Bend, added to the lineup of rides at SIX FLAGS Over Texas late last season, will be new to most 1972 visitors. The huge ride carries passengers over more than a half mile of curving, spiraling track at speeds up to 50 mph. The ride, introduced to this country by Six Flags, is the fastest entertainment ride in the nation.

A TOTAL "NEW LOOK" IN STORE FOR SIX FLAGS VISITORS IN '72

Arlington, Texas — Brilliant new color schemes, subtle design changes and exciting new attractions have given SIX FLAGS Over Texas a new "face" for the 1972 season.

The changes are evident from the moment a guest walks into the Park's entrance mall. There, in the center of a circular pool, sits a new, $25,000 fountain.

In the popular SIX FLAGS Petting Zoo, major changes have been made. A rock-lined lagoon now borders the area where visitors can pet small animals. In the waters of the lagoon are dozens of Imperial Koi carp which will actually eat from the hands of guests.

And, nearby is a new ride, the Rugged Buggy, designed specially for younger visitors who can hop into their own beach buggy or swamp buggy for a gentle ride.

In the Texas section of the big theme park visitors will find the largest, detailed historical map ever made. The huge map of Texas stands more than fourteen feet tall.

The SIX FLAGS Dolphin Show provides more fun than ever. A comical sea lion and a talented macaw have joined the two dolphins in the 1972 show.

In the Southern Palace Music Hall, a fast-moving production called, "Gotta Sing! Gotta Dance!" features a cast of sixteen entertainers from the nation's college campuses backed by a fourteen-piece pit orchestra.

And, in the Puppet Theatre, Sid and Marty Krofft are presenting "Follies," a colorful show new to the SIX FLAGS audiences.

In every corner of the family entertainment center there is a "new look" created during the winter months by Ted Friesen, an environmental artist.

Friesen, the designer of numerous settings for television productions, calls the SIX FLAGS layout "the biggest mural I've ever done."

Familiar buildings and rides have taken on a new appearance. The changes are particularly noticeable in the USA section where the ruler-straight lines of buildings have been erased by a facade of lattice work and graceful arches.

The Lost Parents Caboose, where youngsters separated from their parents await a happy reunion, has been transformed from a dull, green railway car to a bright red and gold unit from a circus train.

The antique Carousel, once primarily white, has been embellished with glowing hues of red, orange and yellow.

Lines of green accent the Old South architecture of the Southern Palace Music Hall. The color extends inside with richly-flocked wall covering and a new, green carpet.

In addition to the changes in color and design, many of the young hosts and hostesses who give SIX FLAGS its personality are sporting strikingly different costumes.

For 1972, the statement, "there's something new at SIX FLAGS," doesn't begin to tell the story.

Mrs. Barnes May Brings Named MH-B Director Tornado Season

Dr. Bobby E. Parker, president of Mary Hardin-Baylor College, and Mrs. G. E. Keith, president of the school's Alumni and Ex-Students Association, made a joint announcement today that Mrs. Betty Barnes has been named the director of the Alumni and Ex-Students Association.

Mrs. Barnes, who is a Houston resident, will begin her duties June 15 at the college. She replaces Mrs. Gayle Crain, who has been serving for Interim Director for several months.

In announcing her employment, Dr. Parker and Mrs. Keith expressed their appreciation that "a person with Mrs. Barnes credentials has accepted this responsibility." Dr. Parker said, "She will be working with all graduates and ex-students, not only raising funds, but keeping them informed of all campus activities."

A graduate of Mary Hardin-Baylor, Mrs. Barnes has also done graduate work at Southwestern Seminary. She has had experience in industrial public relations and personnel work, has held several church staff positions, and has taught in public and private schools in Indiana and Texas.

Spring in Texas brings warm breezes, greening fields and trees and -- too often -- tornadoes.

In an average year, 96 tornadoes hit Texas. They occur most often in the northeastern portion of the Low Rolling Plains and in the northern half of North Central Texas.

The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration in Austin reported that tornadoes occur at any month and during all hours of the day. However, they occur most often during late spring and early summer.

In a 20-year period, 1950-70, three-fifths of all Texas tornadoes occurred in May. More tornadoes hit in Texas than any other state, partly because of its size. However, Texas ranks ninth in the number of tornadoes per square mile, with Oklahoma and Kansas topping the list.

The Environmental Data Service reports that 1,907 tornadoes struck Texas from 1950-70. The greatest tornado outbreak came in September, 1967, when Hurricane Beulah spawned 115. The worst outbreak of spring tornadoes was in 1957 when 69 were reported. The costliest tornado in Texas occurred May 11, 1970 when Lubbock suffered 26 deaths, 500 injuries and $135 million in damage. What can you do when a tornado approaches: Immediate action can save lives, says Wayne Keese, agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A tornado watch is given when the storms are likely to develop in a given area. Stay tuned to newscasts and advisories even if the sky is clear.

A tornado warning means tornadoes have been sighted. Seek shelter in a storm cellar or reinforced building. Stay away from windows. Curl up so that your head and eyes are protected.

When tornadoes are likely, leave mobile homes. They are particularly vulnerable. "If you're in a car, get out and lie in a depression," says the Texas A&M University engineer. "If there are no low spots or depressions, turn the car at a right angle and proceed away from the tornado as quickly as possible."

Farm animals are vulnerable to tornadoes whether in a barn or on open range. However, if they are scattered, the chances are much greater that only a few animals will be lost.

SCIENCE MAKES A POINT!

DO PHOSPHATE DETERGENTS IN HOME SEWAGE SPUR GROWTH OF WATER PLANTS, LIKE ALGAE?
ANSWER: THE TENANTS OF A LARGE APARTMENT BUILDING AGREED TO AVOID USING PHOSPHATE DETERGENTS FOR A TEST.

THEN RANDOM SAMPLES OF THE BUILDING'S SEWAGE WERE TAKEN. EQUAL AMOUNTS OF ALGAE CULTURE WERE PUT INTO 5 TANKS OF PURE WATER, ALONG WITH EQUAL AMOUNTS OF THE BUILDING'S SEWAGE.

If you can't manage now, how are you going to manage later?

Money's tight. You feel pretty lucky if you can stretch your paycheck enough to meet all the everyday expenses. It's harder than ever to save a buck. And how are you going to take care of the future, when you've got enough trouble just taking care of the present?

But, you can manage to save—by joining the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. It's a sure way to get started on a nest egg that you can depend on in the future.

The amount you designate will be automatically set aside from your paycheck and used to buy U.S. Savings Bonds, before you get your check, and before you can spend it.

So, join the Payroll Savings Plan and start on your "secret stash" today. And then just relax and don't worry about tomorrow. You'll manage.

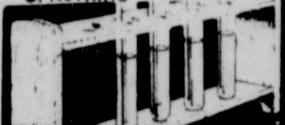

Now E Bonds pay 5 1/2% interest when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). Bonds are replaced if lost, stolen, or destroyed. When needed they can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America.
Buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

THEN INTO SEPARATE TANKS WENT:
1. A PHOSPHATE DETERGENT
2. A NON-PHOSPHATE DETERGENT
3. ANOTHER NON-PHOSPHATE BRAND
4. SOAP
5. NOTHING

RESULT: IN 4 TO 6 DAYS ALL 5 TANKS HAD GROWN EQUAL AMOUNTS OF ALGAE!

SEWAGE WITHOUT DETERGENT PHOSPHATES HOLDS ENOUGH NUTRIENTS TO MAKE PLANTS FLOURISH IN WATER!

BAKED SMOKED HAM, traditional as decorated eggs, is perfect star for elegant yet easy Easter feast.

When a modern smoked family, assured that the meal ham heads the Easter menu, is well in hand. Boneless and a hostess can relax with the fully-cooked, today's hams require neither time nor attention. It's simply a matter of bake, carve and enjoy!

No time consuming stuffing or gravy preparation is required when ham is the entire. It can be dressed for the feast quickly, if desired, by glazing with jelly during the last half hour baking time and garnishing with flowers fashioned from kumquats.

Choose as table companions for this fine meat compatible seasonal foods that are easy to prepare. White or sweet potatoes, baked scalloped or glazed, can share the oven with the ham. Bring spring to the table with a bowl of fresh or frozen asparagus and a tossed green salad. Rolls from refrigerator or freezer and relishes from jar and hydrator will complete the main course to everyone's satisfaction. Add a spectacular dessert and you have a feast!

Baked Boneless Smoked Ham

Place a 7 to 10-pound boneless smoked fully-cooked ham on a rack in an open roasting pan. Insert roast meat thermometer so the bulb is centered in the thickest part. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a slow oven (325°F.)

until thermometer registers 140°F.; allow approximately 15 to 18 minutes per pound.

Always use the smallest nail that will do the job, for economy and to avoid splitting the wood.
